

I am writing this to make the reading of the set of Aman books as easy as possible so that all the aspects are easily and correctly understood. Everything mentioned by me is with no disrespect to anyone's beliefs or sentiments.

Three books have been handed down from the heavens to help mankind to unite into one religion and to also enable us to achieve peace and to be able to live in harmony with all of God's creations, of which mankind is His greatest creation. Two of these books are God protected and God powered.

The New-religion is introduced through the three books as mentioned earlier,

- The first book "Aman Of All The Religions". AMAN stands for "All Mankind And New-religion" – therefore the meaning of the title is actually "All Mankind And New-religion Of All The Religions". The word AMAN is pronounced as 'A' as in 'aah' and 'MAN' as 'mun' or; as in 'mon' as in 'Monday'. That is, like Aah-mun.
- The second book "Good Rules For The Good Messengers Of God" – here the term Messenger is given from the heavens as Priest.
- The third book "The Good Book For All The Prophets To Have" – here the term Prophet is given from the heavens as High Priest.

The books of Aman contain what God wants us to know mainly His laws, His ways and His plans. The books of AMAN are God Powered and God Protected the meanings of which are:

- God Powered - God has approved all the prayers in the books and has also empowered some of His angels to grant these prayers without referring to Him.
- God Protected - means prayers prayed to God can only be granted by God or His angels. This also extends to anyone who opens these books and starts to read from them, where that person has the protection of God till such time that these books are being read.

As I give the explanations, I will try and adhere only to what has been received from the heavens. At times I may be required to give some analogies or examples to express some clarity of thoughts. It may also become necessary to give some background information and these may not necessarily be very accurate, reason being that there could be no accurate information available at all. For example, we have no knowledge of the first person to receive messages from heavens or in which part of the world the first messages were received from the heavens.

This set of Aman books is reproduced verbatim as received from heavens without a single word being changed. Although these books have very simple language, some meanings, particularly with reference to the context, can be hard to understand. A few examples are:

- 'a good prayer will find a good place in the heavens after the term on earth' - The word prayer here means a person who is praying just as a person who paints is a painter.
- 'good, good angels' - This is a term that frequently appears and this may set us to think why the word good is used twice. The word good also means excellent or virtuous and we need to interpret the word as per the context so this phrase can be understood as 'excellent good angels' or 'virtuous good angels'.
- 'God please keep all the good evil far from us' – here the word good refers to some being good at what they do, such as a good doctor or a good painter. Similarly, when someone who is good at being evil is referred as good evil.

More examples are available in the glossary section of the website.

Some of us may have some spiritual awareness and some of us may not. Some may accept the existence of God; others may totally discard His existence. Spirituality is a very individual thing and no two persons can have the same exact spiritual understanding or knowledge. So, it is up to each one of us to understand, accept or reject anything that is being told.

That, there will be only one religion in the future could get hard for all to accept, but this knowledge is not new as many people have written about the New Age. No one will willingly want to do away with one's own religion as all religions are so very precious to each of us. The New Age will bring eternal peace and mankind will see a bright future with no wars or hatred for anyone. This prediction has come throughout centuries and it is even prophesied by Nostradamus.

The New-religion is a very simple one and is written in simple language and the transition into the New-religion is easy. The new religion is called 'New-religion' and the followers of the New-religion are called 'the good people of the earth'. A good person is the one who will be at peace and will live in harmony with his fellow-beings and all God's creations. Therefore, if I were to ask you 'are you a good person'? And if your answer is going to be "YES" – then you are going to be the follower of the New-religion. But before answering 'yes' ensure that you are a peaceful person and that you are living in harmony with all good people and with other God's creations. To be a good peaceful person you will have to love all those who love you and all those you live with and you will have to lead a righteous life.

The entire set of Aman books is written in prayer format. The term 'prayer' can be defined as 'an expression to God' and can be categorised as that of:

- Protection
- Help
- Comfort, and
- Thanking and worshiping God.

Though all passages are in prayer format, some are only to be understood as messages from the heavens for us, where as some others are our actual expressions (prayers) and some passages serve dual purpose.

The set of Aman books is designed to prevail from the start of the new millennium till the time the world becomes as God had originally planned, that is, very peaceful and harmonious. As you will read the books you will find that there are some passages that are historical and are no longer relevant; some are relevant for present times and others are for the future.

In the past religions were unique to the needs of the specific culture. As the global community becomes closer through the advent of some good technologies i.e. the internet and faster travel the world has now become a very small place. Also most of the people now use English as main language of communication throughout the world and thus God Almighty has given a religion that serves all the good people of the earth as one group and in the language that is most common.
